

Woman Development and Empowerment Program

PROSHIKA is very committed to the development of women. PROSHIKA has been very determined to maintain that the social development cases and issues are being dealt and participated by equal number of men and women. PROSHIKAs development model is to ensure that the power of women is enhanced and assimilated into the workforce and in social development. PROSHIKA has been working to achieve this ideal philosophy of work environment for both men and women in Bangladesh and has been striving to achieve this balance since beginning.

PROSHIKA has been working to help the poorer women of Bangladesh by giving micro credits and making them be self-reliant. PROSHIKA also tries to help the women make separate organizations that they can not only lead but also have a say in the social, economy, family and financial institutions. In this aspect, PROSHIKA has trying to implement different programs to raise the consciousness and awareness for socio economic development of women.
